Decorate your home with this super-simple quilted stocking; add interesting ribbons and trims to create your own unique look. This easy project uses just three fabrics and two stitches.

step one

Quilt the Fabric

Make two "quilt sandwiches"—lining fabric face down, batting in the middle, and stocking fabric right side up on top. Bond the layers together with temporary adhesive spray.

Attach the walking foot to the sewing machine. Sew a series of straight lines across the length and width of your "sandwich." Tip: If you are using a plaid fabric, use the lines of the plaid as a guide when quilting.

step two

Construct the Stocking

Print the stocking pattern pieces (page 4); tape them together, matching the markings. Cut out the paper pattern.

Trace the pattern onto one of the quilted rectangles. Flip the pattern over and trace the reversed shape on the second quilted rectangle. Cut out both stocking pieces.

Attach the $\frac{1}{4}$ " foot to the sewing machine. Place the quilted stocking pieces right sides together. Using a $\frac{1}{4}$ "-wide seam allowance, stitch around the outside of the stocking, leaving the top open.

Attach the all-purpose foot to the machine and select a zigzag stitch; adjust the width to about 2.5mm. Stitch just outside the previous stitching to give extra stability to the seam.

Turn the stocking right side out.

step three

Fold the cuff fabric in half, right sides together, and stitch the 8" ends together. Press the seam allowances open. Turn the cuff right side out.

Fold the cuff in half, wrong sides together; press.

Place the cuff inside the stocking, aligning the raw edges at the top of the stocking.

Fold the ribbon in half and insert the ends between the cuff and the stocking body on the heel side of the stocking, aligning the raw edges.

Stitch the layers together with a $\frac{1}{4}$ " seam allowance using the $\frac{1}{4}$ " foot and a straight stitch. Change to the all-purpose foot and zigzag the edges together.
